Adopting a new born baby:

Our private program that will facilitate you adopting a precious new born baby in the United States is an amazing adoption opportunity. There is a very short adoption waiting list and most of these adoptions occur in about 8-12 months. Adopting in our own country is increasingly becoming more popular as international adoptions have become much more difficult and expensive. Infants born in the US are generally in good health and you have an opportunity to review the medical reports of the new born baby before final commitment. We are very sympathetic to couples who have suffered infertility, particularly with those dear people who have exhausted fertility treatments. Our referral process is respectful of your concerns and the birth mother's preferences.

Affordable Fees...

Hope for Families is a non-profit child placing agency and our fees are in the lower range of agencies and completely explained in the adoption contract so that you will be fully informed and prepared for your adoption.

No more than three previous divorces are acceptable and parents must not have a major criminal record although we will review every situation. Applicants must not have a major life threatening medical illness or severe mental health diagnoses at the time of the application. Household income must be approximately $40,000 plus. At least one of the adoptive parents must be a U.S. Citizen.

We accept applications in all 50 States!

Adoption Process...

The first step is to have a completed adoption home study along with signing the adoption contract so that we can begin to look for a birth mother who will choose to place her baby with you. Then we will be able to offer you an adoption referral so that you can talk to and meet the birth mother, often by attending the ultra sound visit. At birth, you will meet your baby and spend time with the infant in the hospital until the birth mother signs the adoption consent and we place the child in your care. The legal work and post placements occur over the next 3-4 months to finalize your adoption.
